IN MEMORIAM

JOE DELANEY
OCTOBER 30, 1958 — JUNE 29, 1983

Kansas City Chiefs running back who gave his life to save another.

"His pro career was brief in years but his electrifying style of play and enthusiasm for life will be remembered and treasured by all in the family of the Kansas City Chiefs."

—LAMAR HUNT, OWNER

"The family's loss is monumental compared with our loss, and so we try to keep that in perspective, but we lost one of the most exciting players in our history. When he was on the field, he made things happen and he had the ability to become one of the very best running backs in NFL history. We also lost one of our hardest working, most dedicated character players who was a team player and totally unselfish. It was probably his unselfish character which caused his accidental death in performing an heroic act."

—JACK STEADMAN, PRESIDENT

"Joe was like a breath of fresh air. He was so friendly and easy-going and fun to be around. He loved his family, loved life, and loved football, and everyone who knew him or had an opportunity to be around him, loved him."

—JIM SCHAAF, GENERAL MANAGER

"He was loved and respected both personally and professionally in every respect. Joe Delaney was a hero before today. He was dedicated to his family and dedicated to his sport."

—JOHN MACKOVIC, HEAD COACH

"He had all the qualities and character traits that you look up to in great people...courage, tenacity, honesty, loyalty."

—TOM CONDON, TEAMMATE

LAMAR HUNT

Over the last two decades, pro football has moved into a place of prominence among America's sporting fans and Kansas City Chiefs owner Lamar Hunt has played no small role in that success.

The current president of the AFC and founder of the old American Football League, Hunt has been a unique architect in the development and excitement of the game since he formed the AFL in 1960.

As the 1983 season opens, this quiet Texan begins his 24th year in pro football as the sole owner of the Kansas City Chiefs. Long honored and respected by his peers, Hunt was recently recognized by the NFL Alumni Association when he received its highest award—The Order of the Leather Helmet—at the annual 1981 convention. Hunt, along with Dallas Cowboys head coach Tom Landry, received the distinguished award for dedication and service to pro football. One of the main forces in the growth and development of pro football, Hunt accepted the award by noting, "I'm honored because this award comes from the men who built the game of football and made it possible."

Hunt's initial venture into organized sports was as a player. He was a reserve end at Southern Methodist University. Of his brief collegiate playing career, Hunt once quipped: "Fortunately I didn't drop any passes because none were ever thrown at the end of the bench."

Indicative of his stature within the game is the fact that he was the first AFL figure to be enshrined in the Pro Football Hall of Fame. That honor was bestowed on Hunt in 1972 when, at the enshrinement ceremonies in Canton, Hunt's good friend Bill Sullivan of the New England Patriots described the Chiefs owner as the "architect, designer and builder of an impossible dream."

That dream, to start a new pro football league, unfolded in the early part of 1959, became a reality with eight new AFL franchises opening the 1960 season and a new league truly was born. Later, of course, came the merger with the NFL and the creation of the Super Bowl, both events partially orchestrated by Hunt. Appropriately enough, it was Hunt's team, the Chiefs, who played in that first world championship game in January of 1967 against the Green Bay Packers and then came back to win the Super Bowl in January of 1970 against the Minnesota Vikings.

Hunt continues to be a prominent pro football leader and his ventures in Kansas City involve more than just the Chiefs. First there were improvements the Chiefs funded during the construction of Arrowhead Stadium in 1972. Hunt then developed a multi-million-dollar, Kansas City area recreation park, Worlds of Fun, and two years ago opened a new theme park in the area, Oceans of Fun. He also owns Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc., and Mid-America Enterprises, Inc., development and real estate companies in Kansas City.

A sportsman in the true sense of the word—and jogger and tennis player, Hunt is also involved in several other sports ventures. He organized and coordinated the formation and development of World Championship Tennis and, through WCT, helped bring the sport further international prominence. He is involved with the North American Soccer League and he is also one of the founding owners of the Chicago Bulls of the NBA.

In addition to his numerous business commitments, Hunt is active as a member of the board of directors of NFL Charities and is a member of the Board of Trustees of the Pro Football Hall of Fame. Hunt also is active in numerous civic functions and events in both Dallas and in Kansas City.

Hunt and his wife, Norma, have four children, Lamar Jr., Sharron, Clark and Daniel. The family resides in Dallas, Texas.

CHIEFS PRESIDENT

JACK STEADMAN

The Kansas City Chiefs begin their 21st season in Mid-America and their 24th season as a pro football franchise under the leadership of Jack Steadman, the president of the team. Determination and dedication to rebuilding an NFL championship contender has been the number one priority for the team's chief executive officer.

In 1975, under Steadman's guidance, the Chiefs revamped their football operations in an effort to build a champion once again in the highly competitive AFC Western Division of the NFL. This reorganization included the development of a separate scouting and personnel department under Les Miller and a new man in charge of the football operations in general manager Jim Schaaf. The reorganization and the patience to provide it time to work reached new heights this winter when Steadman selected John Mackovic as the Chiefs new head coach.

A recognized leader among pro football administrators, Steadman has structured the Chiefs organization to meet the challenge brought about by the growth of the business of pro football over the years.

As the Chiefs begin their 21st season in Kansas City and their 12th season in magnificent Arrowhead Stadium, Steadman can look with pride at the list of football and administrative accomplishments the organization has achieved since moving from Dallas for the beginning of the 1963 season in the old American Football League.

It was Steadman who conceived the idea of Kansas City building the dual Harry S. Truman Sports Complex, which houses the Chiefs in 78,000-seat Arrowhead and the baseball Royals in the 42,000 Royals Stadium. Combined, this complex is recognized as the finest of its kind in the world.

Steadman has been a constant innovator since entering pro football and many of his ideas and developments have been duplicated throughout the NFL. Some of these creative ideas include a ticket-by-telephone system for enhancing area-wide sales, a unique seat relocation program for season ticket holders, a reserved parking plan for Arrowhead and numerous other ticket and marketing programs.

Steadman was promoted from general manager to executive vice president and general manager in 1966 and, in August of 1976, was named president of the Chiefs in charge of all operations.

In addition to serving as president of the Chiefs, Steadman also is president of Hunt Midwest Enterprises, Inc.; chairman of Mid-America Enterprises, Inc., which owns Worlds of Fun and Oceans of Fun, multi-million dollar family recreation theme parks in the Kansas City area; and chairman of Great Midwest Corporation, a real estate, limestone rock mining, and underground development firm in the Kansas City International Trade Zone. He also serves on the board of directors of Commerce Bank and is the chairman of the NFL front office and coaches pension plan committee.

Actively involved within the community since arriving in Kansas City, Steadman is a tireless worker and detailed organizer in many civic and service projects. He is the immediate past chairman of the Heart of America United Way, is president of the Starlight Theatre Association and is the first vice-chairman of the Chamber of Commerce of Greater Kansas City. He serves on the board of directors of the Civic Council of Greater Kansas City, is a member of the Kansas City Area Economic Development Council and a member of the board of directors of the American Royal Association. Steadman also serves as an advisory trustee for Research Medical Center and this year was selected as a trustee of Midwest Research Institute.

CHIEFS GENERAL MANAGER

JIM SCHAAF

Jim Schaaf, the Chiefs 45-year-old general manager, begins his 18th season with the team in a career that has covered virtually all areas of the club's operation. Schaaf joined the Chiefs in 1966 as director of public relations following five years association with the Kansas City Athletics baseball club. He was elevated to assistant general manager in January, 1968, and to vice president in July, 1974.

Schaaf was named to his present position in August of 1976. Following Lamar Hunt's elevation of Jack Steadman to president, Steadman instituted a reorganization of the club's front office that resulted in Schaaf's being named vice president and general manager. In January, 1978, Steadman delegated to Schaaf full responsibility in the areas of player personnel and overall team operations. In that assignment, he works closely with head coach John Mackovic and player personnel director Les Miller and their staffs in the day-to-day responsibilty of player personnel and football team areas of operation.

"Jim has all the qualities you look for in a general manager," says Steadman. "He is dedicated, aggressive, intelligent, thorough and highly motivated to succeed. In the last couple years, we have shown substantial progress in all team-related areas of operation. This has been due in no small way to Jim's dedication and leadership. He is now being recognized as one of the most outstanding general managers in pro football."

Schaaf's duties in the past included supervision of Chiefs day-to-day operations and the promotion of special events. Schaaf held several front office positions with the Athletics and was their director of publicity and promotions when he joined the Chiefs.

Schaaf was born May 22, 1938 in Erie Pennsylvania. He attended Cathedral Preparatory School in Erie, then moved to Notre Dame, where he earned a bachelor's degree in economics. He played three years of football for the Fighting Irish, two as a starter, at guard from 1956-58. He and his wife, Julie, have two children, Jill Marie, 19, and James, 15. The family lives in Overland Park.

CHIEFS HEAD COACH

"Success is a journey, not a destination."
—John Mackovic
April, 1983

JOHN MACKOVIC

Thus, the journey begins for 39-year-old John Mackovic as the head coach of the Kansas City Chiefs in 1983.

The quarterback coach for the Dallas Cowboys the last two NFL seasons, Mackovic was selected to be the Chiefs new leader in February while coaching at the AFC-NFC Pro Bowl and the journey for success started soon after with the careful selection of his coaching staff, major involvement in the NFL draft and developing the beginning stages of the system he will employ in this inaugural season.

At Dallas in 1981 and 1982, Mackovic was instrumental in developing quarterback Danny White, who has earned two consecutive Pro bowl berths, and the Cowboys highly regarded passing attack. At the same time, he learned from one of the most knowledgable and classiest coaches in the NFL, Tom Landry.

An offensive-oriented coach, Mackovic will engineer and coordinate the Chiefs offense, particularly the passing game and the quarterbacks, the two areas he feels are the most significant in building a consistent winner in the NFL.

"The key to pro football today is the passing game. Not that you pass the ball more than you run it, or that you are overbalanced, but the key is to have a successful passing game because everybody gets behind sooner or later."

Prior to joining Landry's Dallas staff, Mackovic was the head coach at Wake Forest University from 1978-80, turning around a sagging football program and guiding the Deacons to their first post-season bowl appearance in 30 years. Returning to his alma mater to take over the head coaching duties, Mackovic pulled Wake Forest from oblivion in the college football ranks during his three-year reign.

Inheriting a program in 1978 which had won just 13 games the previous six years, his Deacons were 1-10 the first season. Then in 1979, he coached Wake Forest to an 8-3 record, a spot in the national rankings for the first time in the school's history and invitation to the Tangerine Bowl. The bowl appearance marked the first post-season game for the Deacons since 1949.

In 1980, Mackovic's Wake Forest team compiled a 5-6 record, losing four of the games by a combined total of seven points. His three-year career record with the Deacons was 14-20, but more important, he earned the reputation for producing a wide-open, multiple offensive attack and for building successful foundations from sagging programs.

An excellent speaker and motivator, Mackovic is a goal-oriented individual who believes in setting a direction. "I pride myself in being able to work with people. It's not a matter, all the time, of proving who's right and who's wrong, but how we best can put our product on the field and do the very best job we can of not only winning football games, but being the type of organization that would represent the city of Kansas City as well as possible ... Leadership, for me, is not just on the football field. There is a basic leadership I think throughout the organization that I can provide. A lot of that has to deal with human relations—how you treat one another, how you approach every task that you do. Hopefully, that will spill over into our community, because this is a great community."

The foundations for Mackovic's early success in coaching came from 13 years of assistant coaching experience in the college and high school ranks. Prior to being the head coach at Wake Forest, Mackovic held assistant coaching positions at Purdue, Arizona, San Jose State and Army. He was in charge of the offense at all four schools and served as the assistant head coach at both Arizona and Purdue the five seasons before taking over at Wake Forest.

Mackovic began his coaching career after receiving a B.A. degree in Spanish from Wake Forest in 1965. He entered graduate school at Miami of Ohio and served as a graduate assistant under Bo Schembechler, earning a master's degree in secondary education from Miami in 1966. He returned to his prep alma mater, Barberton High School (Ohio), in 1966 as an assistant football coach in charge of the offensive backfield. The following year he was commissioned in the Army, reaching the ranks of first lieutenant and coaching West Point's freshman football squad before his March 1969 discharge. That same year he began a two-year stint as offensive coordinator and physical education instructor at San Jose State. He then returned to West Point in 1971 and spent two years as Army's offensive backfield coach. In 1973, he joined Jim Young's staff at Arizona as offensive coordinator. He then followed Young to Purdue in 1977, again handling the offense.

Mackovic enjoyed a successful career as a quarterback at Wake Forest in 1962-64, becoming the school's sixth-leading all-time passer with 1,950 yards in those three seasons. As a senior in '64, he led the ACC in total offense, was second team All-ACC, first-team All-ACC Academic and was voted the Deacons most inspirational player. He was a teammate and a roommate of the late Brian Piccolo during his playing days at Wake Forest.

An avid golfer during the off-season, Mackovic becomes the third youngest head coach in the NFL, next to Denver's Dan Reeves and Buffalo's new head coach Kay Stephenson.

Mackovic and his wife, Arlene, have two children, Amy, 8 years, and John Jr., 6 years. The family resides in Mission, Kansas.

"I think I realized about halfway through his first year with us that he wasn't going to be around long before some team scooped him ... John really came at the right time for me. I had just started my career as a starting quarterback and what I needed more than anything else was support. John has a tremendous knack for seeing things like that. He firmly believes in two aspects of coaching—encouragement and praise. He eliminates the negatives and talks about the positives. It was very important to me at the time, and I think that's just what the Chiefs need more than anything now, somebody to talk positives."

CHIEFS COACHING STAFF

BUD CARSON, Def. Coord. & Def. Backs

A defensive mastermind who was first recognized for orchestrating the Pittsburgh Steelers famous "Steel Curtain" defense in the mid-70's, Bud Carson will serve his first season as the Chiefs defensive coordinator and defensive backfield coach. For Carson it will be his 12th season in the NFL. Nine of those seasons have been playoff years with three Super Bowl appearances.

One of six coaches on the Chiefs staff who has had head coaching experience, Carson was the head man at Georgia Tech for five seasons (1967-71). While at Tech, Carson's Yellow Jackets compiled a 27-27 record with one of the most difficult schedules in the nation and, in his final two head coaching seasons, made appearances in the Sun and Peach Bowls.

But, it was in the professional ranks where Carson began to make his mark and reputation in the coaching field. He was hired by Chuck Noll in 1972 to coach the defensive backfield, assumed the defensive coordinator position midway through that season and began building one of the most dominating defenses in the history of the league. Through the next six seasons, while he was with the Steelers, Carson shared in six playoff seasons and two Super Bowl victories (IX and X) before moving on to the Los Angeles Rams. He served as George Allen's defensive backfield coach in 1978 and then became defensive coordinator the following season, where he stayed through 1981. His defense helped the Rams gain a berth in Super Bowl XIV in 1979. In 1982, Carson became the defensive coordinator for the Baltimore Colts.

A native of Brackenridge, Pa., the 51-year-old Carson was an All-Southern Conference defensive back at North Carolina for three years. Full name: Leon H. "Bud" Carson. Wife: Linda. Children: Dana (24), Cliff (23), Gary (22), Cathy (7).

WALT COREY, Defensive Line

One of two coaches to be retained from the previous coaching staff, Walt Corey represents a nostalgic Chiefs history to John Mackovic's coaching crew. Corey has served as both a player and an assistant coach for the Chiefs.

This season, he begins his tenth year as a Chiefs assistant, returning to the defensive line after handling the defensive backs for the past two seasons under Marv Levy. Corey spent two terms with the Chiefs as an assistant, first with Hank Stram as the defensive line coach from 1971-74 and then as the defensive line and defensive backfield coach for Levy from 1978-82.

The first appointee on Mackovic's staff, Corey brings a wealth of defensive knowledge, having coached all phases of the defense in the professional ranks and having played as a linebacker in professional football for the Dallas Texans and Chiefs from 1960 through 1966.

Corey was an outstanding football player at the University of Miami before joining the original Dallas Texans in the first year of the American Football League in 1960. He was a starting linebacker in the Texans 1962 AFL championship game and played for the Chiefs in Super Bowl I following the 1966 season.

He entered the collegiate coaching ranks in 1967 before joining Stram's Chiefs coaching staff in 1971. In between his Chiefs coaching stints, Corey was the linebacker coach for the Cleveland Browns from 1975-77. The 45-year-old Corey is a native of Latrobe, Pa., and attended high school at Derry (Pa.) H.S. Full name: Walter M. Corey. Wife: Jane. Children: Carla (16), Mark (15).

DAN DANIEL, Inside Linebackers

A recent coaching protege of the Canadian Football League, Clarence "Dan" Daniel will work with the inside linebackers as a member of the Chiefs coaching staff this season.

He joins the Chiefs after a five-year coaching reign in the CFL with the Edmonton Eskimos and the Calgary Stampeders, both as defensive coordinator. He was recognized in the CFL as one of the most innovative defensive coaches in the league. While at Edmonton (1978-81), Daniel's defense led the Eskimos to four consecutive Grey Cup titles and, last season, as the defensive coordinator at Calgary, the Stampeders jumped from fifth place in '81 to second place and a playoff berth in '82 with a devastating defense.

Daniel carries a wealth of experience as an assistant coach in the collegiate ranks where he spent 16 years at five different institutions, starting with the University of Wyoming in 1962. He was the defensive coordinator at MacAlester College (Minn.), Colorado State and the University of Houston and an assistant coach at the U.S. Naval Academy before heading for the two CFL coaching assignments.

Daniel also coached for seven years on the high school level following his graduation from Huron College in his native Huron, South Dakota.

The 50-year-old Daniel attended Huron High School. Full name: Clarence A. "Dan" Daniel. Wife: Wendy. Children: Carly (9), Chelsey (1); four children from previous marriage: Dale (27), Denise (26), Dirk (23), Darci (17).

DOUG GRABER, Def. Backs & Quality Control

Another Chiefs assistant coach who has collegiate head coaching experience, Doug Graber will work with many phases of the team's defense in 1983. He will assist defensive coordinator Bud Carson with the defensive secondary and also will serve as the quality control coach of the defense.

Graber joins the Chiefs staff after completing a most successful campaign as the Montana State Bobcats head coach in 1982. Graber guided Montana State from seventh place in the Big Sky Conference in 1981 to a tie for the conference crown last season with a 6-5 overall mark and a 5-2 league record.

A football and golf star at Wayne State University, Graber earned a master's degree in education at Northern Michigan. His overall coaching career started in his native Detroit at St. Francis Cabrini High School.

Graber then entered the collegiate coaching ranks in 1969, taking over the defensive coordinating at Michigan Tech. He developed the league's top defense all three years at Tech and moved on to Eastern Michigan as the defensive coordinator from 1972-75. In 1976, Graber was hired by Dave McClain at Ball State as the defensive backfield coach and recruiting coordinator. He moved with McClain to Wisconsin in 1978 as the Badgers defensive backfield coach and spent four years there developing one of the Big Ten's top secondaries. He also was the academic and recruiting coordinator at Wisconsin.

The 39-year-old Graber will spend much of his time evaluating the Chiefs defensive tendencies throughout the season in addition to helping coach the defensive secondary. Graber attended St. Agatha High School in Detroit. Full name: Douglas Gary Graber. Wife: Faye. Children: Joe (8), J.J. (6).

J.D. HELM, Off. Asst. & Quality Control

One of two assistant coaches from the previous staff to be retained by Chiefs head coach John Mackovic, J.D. Helm brings a variety of coaching and personnel experience to the coaching staff. In 1983, Helm will serve as a general offensive assistant and quality control coach for Mackovic.

After spending seven years on the Chiefs player personnel staff both as a scout and as the assistant director of player personnel, Helm joined the Chiefs coaching staff in 1982 under Marv Levy. He coached the offensive backs that season but, this year, under Mackovic, he will work more closely with the head coach in evaluating the Chiefs offense and coordinating other team assignments.

Mackovic first became associated with Helm when they coached against each other in the WAC, Helm as an assistant at BYU and Mackovic as an assistant at Arizona.

A football and track standout at the University of Kansas, Helm has coached on the high school, college and professional levels in addition to owning a great wealth of experience in personnel scouting. He began his coaching career at his alma mater, Kansas, as a graduate assistant and then moved on to an assistant coaching and teaching position at Shawnee Mission East High School in suburban Kansas City.

Helm moved into college coaching in 1968 at Brigham Young University and, for seven seasons, was instrumental in helping develop the Cougars wide open and nationally famous offensive attack. During his stint with BYU, Helm coached all phases of the offense.

A native of Marceline (Mo.), the 42-year-old Helm attended El Dorado Springs (Mo.) High School and was recognized as one of the state's outstanding football players. Full name: J.D. Helm. Wife: Elizabeth. Children: Heather (13), Lisa (10), Erin (8), Adam (6).

C.T. HEWGLEY, Linemen, Strength & Cond.

A veteran of three military wars and carrying 14 years of experience in the collegiate coaching ranks, C.T. Hewgley will serve a dual role in his capacity as a Chiefs assistant coach in his first assignment with professional football.

Hewgley will coordinate the Chiefs strength and conditioning program throughout the year and, in addition, will work with offensive line coach Rod Humenuik and defensive line coach Walt Corey. He assisted in organizing and directing the final stages of construction for the Chiefs new weight and conditioning area in Arrowhead Stadium during this past off-season.

A combat veteran of World War II, Korea and Vietnam, Hewgley did not begin his coaching career until the age of 43, following two stints in the U.S. Army. He spent 17 years in the service, making it a career until retiring in 1968 and then starting his coaching career.

A graduate of the University of Wyoming where he was an All-America tackle in 1950, Hewgley began his coaching career as the freshman coach and recruiting coordinator at Miami (Fla.) from 1968-70. He returned to his alma mater as the line coach from 1971-73 and then became the head coach at the University of Nebraska-Omaha in 1974.

For the past seven years, Hewgley has been an assistant coach under Darryl Rogers at Arizona State and Michigan State.

A native of Nashville, Tenn., the 58-year-old Hewgley attended East Nashville High School. Full name: C.T. Hewgley. Wife: Julia.

ROD HUMENUIK, Off. Line & Running Game

Recognized throughout professional football as one of the outstanding offensive line coaches in the business, Rod Humenuik joins the Chiefs coaching staff with some added assignments.

In addition to tutoring the team's offensive linemen, Humenuik's other responsibilities will include organizing the offensive game plans for the running game as well as being in charge of all pass protection schemes for head coach John Mackovic.

A head coach at California State-Northridge for two seasons, Humenuik brings to the Chiefs 18 years of coaching experience in college, CFL and the NFL.

Over the last eight seasons, Humenuik has served as the offensive line coach of the Cleveland Browns where he assembled one of the league's finest offensive lines, which has produced AFC Pro Bowlers Tom DeLeone and Doug Dieken. Prior to his tenure at Cleveland, Humenuik spent two seasons (1973-74) as the offensive line coach of the Toronto Argonauts of the CFL. His college coaching career, in addition to Cal State Northridge, includes assistant assignments at Fullerton Junior College for one season and at USC, under John McKay, for five years. During his five-year sting at USC, the Trojans made four appearances as the conference representative in the Rose Bowl.

A standout guard for the USC Trojans from 1956-58, Humenuik earned a master's degree in education from USC and then played for three seasons under Bud Grant for the Winnipeg Blue Bombers in the CFL.

The 45-year-old Humenuik attended Los Angeles High school. Full name: Rod Humenuik. Wife: Susie. Children: Kim (23), Kerry (21), Kelly (18), Michael (15).

PETE McCULLEY, Quarterbacks

Regarded as one of the best teaching technicians of quarterbacks and receivers in the game today, Pete McCulley's coaching assignment with the Chiefs is with the quarterbacks. He will work closely with head coach John Mackovic in working with the quarterbacks and the team's new offensive approach this season.

The head coach of the San Francisco 49ers for nine games during the 1978 season, McCulley has been instrumental in organizing the passing attacks of the New York Jets, Washington Redskins and Baltimore Colts in the 10 seasons he has been coaching in the NFL. In the last four years he has been involved in the Jets passing game, serving as the receivers coach in 1979 and the last two years and working with the quarterbacks in 1980. His first two stops in the NFL were assistant assignments with the Baltimore Colts for four seasons (1973-76) and the Washington Redskins for one season (1977). The passing game was a specific assignment in each case, also.

In addition to his 10 years in NFL coaching, McCulley has 14 years of experience in the collegiate coaching ranks, beginning with Stephen F. Austin State College in 1959. He spent one year there, three years at the University of Houston staff, seven years with Baylor University and three years with the U.S. Naval Academy.

A native of Franklin County, Miss., the 51-year-old McCulley was an all-Conference quarterback at Louisiana Tech, graduating in 1956. He attended Istrouma High School in Baton Rouge, La. Full name: Pete McCulley. Wife: Nettie Jean. Children: Kit (26), Kim (25).

WILLIE PEETE, Offensive Backs

A longtime friendship that grew out of a coaching association ended a longtime association for Willie Peete at the University of Arizona and brought him to the Kansas City Chiefs this season as an assistant coach in charge of the running backs.

Chiefs head coach John Mackovic and Peete coached on the same staff at Arizona in the early 70's and they've been fast friends ever since.

For Peete, Arizona was more than a coaching position. He has spent the last 12 years there as an assistant coach for the Wildcats, including four seasons on the same staff as Mackovic. Peete was born and raised in nearby Mesa, Ariz., matriculated to the University of Arizona and became a two-sport standout in football, as a wide receiver, and baseball, in his senior year.

The Chiefs assignment will mark only the second move for Peete in his coaching career. He started his coaching duties at the Tucson campus as a graduate assistant while finishing studies for his B.S. degree in physical education. He returned to his hometown of Mesa in 1963 and was an assistant coach at Mesa H.S. in football and track, then moved to a new high school, Westwood, where he served as an assistant in football and the junior varsity basketball coach for seven years. During that time, Peete earned his master's degree in secondary education from Arizona State. He rejoined the Arizona staff as a fulltime assistant coach, working for four different head coaches. In that span he coached outside linebackers, receivers, tackles and tight ends, receivers and running backs plus helped coordinate recruiting.

Peete is 46 years old. Full name: Willie Peete, Jr. Wife: Edna. Children: Willie Peete III (20), Rodney Peete (17).

JIM VECHIARELLA, Outside Linebackers & Special Teams

Carrying 25 years of coaching experience that includes high school, college, World Football League and the NFL, Jim Vechiarella assumes two assignments on the Chiefs coaching staff this season. He will handle the outside linebackers and coach the Chiefs highly-respected special teams in the 1983 season.

Vechiarella spent the last two seasons with the Los Angeles Rams, first coaching the special teams in 1981 and then handling the defensive secondary last year.

Defense has been Vechiarella's specialty in coaching throughout his career since he graduated as a four-year defensive standout for Youngstown State University in 1958. He began coaching in high school, spending a combined six years at two Ohio prep schools— Poland and Rayen, his alma mater in Youngstown.

He joined the Youngstown State coaching staff after that and worked 11 years as an assistant, most of that time as the defensive coordinator.

In 1975, Vechiarella moved into the brand new World Football League as a defensive line coach with Charlotte and, when the league folded, he moved back into the college ranks as the defensive coordinator at Southern Illinois. He spent two years at Southern Illinois before joining vince Gibson's staff at Tulane, handling the defensive coordinating for the Green Wave from 1978-80.

The 46-year-old Vechiarella will work closely in the linebacker area this year with Dan Daniel, the inside linebacker coach. Full name: James A. Vechiarella. Wife: Lucille. Children: Jim (21), Bill (19), Lisa (17).

RICHARD WILLIAMSON, Receivers

This 1982 season marks the return to coaching for Richard Williamson, who after two years out of coaching, returns to join his good friend, John Mackovic, on the Kansas City Chiefs staff.

Spending 12 years in the collegiate coaching ranks, both as head coach and as an assistant, Williamson will handle the Chiefs receivers this season. He left coaching after the 1980 season to enter private business in 1981 and then last year accepted the position as the executive director of the prestigious Bluebonnet Bowl in Houston, Texas.

The 42-year-old Williamson was head coach at Memphis State from 1975-80, compiling a 31-35 record in those six campaigns with an independent football school that annually plays one of the toughest schedules in the NCAA. He guided the Tigers to consecutive 7-4 records in his first two seasons and was named Southern Independent Coach of the Year in 1976. He twice was selected to coach in the Blue-Gray All-Star Game (1976 & 1977).

Williamson worked as an assistant coach under two college football coaching legends—the late Paul "Bear" Bryant at Alabama and Frank Broyles at Arkansas. He played for Bryant at Alabama, earning All-Southeastern Conference honors as a wide receiver and has the distinction of being the individual who caught sophomore Joe Namath's first collegiate touchdown pass in 1962.

Under Bryant, Williamson coached the Tide's wide receivers in 1963-67 then returned to Alabama to take over the defensive end coaching position in 1970 & '71. In between, he joined Broyles' Arkansas coaching staff to coach the receivers in 1968 & '69 and then returned again to Arkansas to handle the offensive backs from 1972-74. It was in 1975 when he was named the Memphis State head coach.

A native of Fort Deposit, Ala., Williamson attended Lowndes Country High School in Fort Deposit. Full name: Richard Williamson. Wife: Norma. Children: Rich (18), Caroline (16).

He spent 10 years at his alma mater, Syracuse, NY, Phillips began working in college athletics when he graduated from Syracuse University.

In 1980, Phillips was selected equipment manager of the year by the Athletic Equipment Managers Association and currently serves as the association's Executive Director. This past summer he coordinated arrangements for the association's annual convention in Kansas City.

Jon and his wife, Susan, have a son, Jeffrey (19) and a daughter, Debra (17).

WAYNE RUDY, Head Trainer

Wayne Rudy, the chiefs popular head trainer, has been with the team ever since the formation of the American Football League in 1960. Recognized nationally as one of the foremost in his field, Wayne opens his 24th season with the franchise. He's the only person in the organization who's seen every game—preseason, regular season and playoff—that the Chiefs have ever been involved in.

Rudy has served athletic teams over the past 37 years. A graduate of Bowling Green University, he was inducted into his alma mater's Hall of Fame in 1975. He also holds a master's degree from Southern Methodist University. Rudy was the SMU trainer for 13 years (1947-59) before signing on with the Dallas Texans. One of the athletes he served while at SMU was a seldom-used end named Lamar Hunt, who brought Rudy into pro football upon formation of his new team and league.

Wayne was one of the founders of the Southwest Athletic Trainers Association and twice has been a national director of the National Athletic Trainers Association. He has received countless awards in the training field and in 1974 was named to the Helms Athletic Hall of Fame.

Wayne and his wife, Joan, live in Overland Park.

Wayne's capable assistant is DAVE KENDALL, now in his ninth season. Kendall graduated from Kansas State College at Pittsburg with a degree in physical education. PLAYER PERSONNEL STAFF

LES MILLER

Kansas City's procurement of players, via the draft, waiver and free agent route, is the responsibility of player personnel director Les Miller and his four-man staff.

Miller has directed the last eight Chiefs drafts and came to the club after serving three seasons under current Washington general manager Bobby Beathard on the Miami Dolphins scouting staff. In addition to his four full-time scouts, Miller also receives information from the National scouting combine, which the Chiefs joined in 1981 following six years association with BLESTO.

The 45-year-old Miller is a native of Bernice, Oklahoma. He attended Oklahoma State University, then graduated from Kansas State College at Pittsburg with an education degree in 1958. For the next 13 years, Les coached at the high school and college level. He was the head football, basketball and baseball coach at Afton (Okla.) High School from 1958-60 and then coached baseball and football at two Tulsa high schools before accepting a position in private business.

Miller returned to coaching in 1967 as head football coach at Joplin (Mo.) High School. After two seasons, he was named an assistant coach at Brigham Young University in charge of offensive backs until the Dolphins named him to their scouting staff in 1972.

An avid baseball fan, Miller spent two seasons, 1954-55, as a third baseman and outfielder in the New York Yankees farm system.

Les and his wife Joyce have four children: Mike, 27, Debbie, 25, Marty, 14, and Matt, 11. The Millers live in Overland Park.

TALENT SCOUTS

BOBBY GILL, Talent Scout

A veteran coach in the college ranks, Bobby Gill begins his ninth season on the player personnel staff. The 47-year-old Gill attended Baylor University in his hometown of Waco, Texas. He began his coaching career at Ouachita Baptist in 1958. His next stop was Houston, where he coached under Bill Yeoman from 1962 through 1966.

In 1967, he was named offensive coordinator at Tulsa. New Mexico State hired him, again as offensive coordinator, in 1969, and Gill was with the Aggies through the '71 season. Gill coached at Texas El Paso in 1972-73 and spent the 1974 season with the Detroit Wheels of the now-defunct World Football League. He joined the Chiefs player personnel staff in 1975.

Bobby and his wife, Barbara, live in Overland Park. Barbara is the women's basketball coach at Johnson County Community College.

TOMMY O'BOYLE, Talent Scout

Tommy O'Boyle has been a member of the Chiefs family for the past 17 years. He came to Kansas City in 1966, serving as a talent scout and as an assistant coach under Hank Stram. When Les Miller was hired to reorganize the scouting department in 1975, he added O'Boyle to his staff, solely in the personnel field.

A graduate of Tulane University, O'Boyle was an All-America performer and a number one draft choice of the Chicago Bears in 1940. He did not play pro football; instead, he began his coaching career at his alma mater. O'Boyle later was head coach and athletic director at Southwest Missouri State. He then served as line coach at Kansas State, Duke and Miami (Fla.) before returning to Tulane as an assistant in 1960.

In 1962, O'Boyle was named head coach of the Green Wave. He held that post through the 1965 season, then joined the Chiefs the following year.

Tommy and his wife, Rose Mary, are the parents of five children. They live in Kansas City.

OTIS TAYLOR, Talent Scout

The all-time leading receiver in Chiefs history, Otis Taylor begins his sixth year on the player personnel staff.

Taylor's outstanding play at wide receiver in the 1960s and 70s helped the Chiefs get into two NFL Super bowls. His lifetime 410 receptions, 7,306 yards receiving and 60 touchdowns all still stand as club records. He also holds the Chiefs single-season receiving yardage record of 1,297.

The 40-year-old Taylor was Kansas City's fourth round draft choice in 1965 from Prairie View. The former All-America was the Chiefs leading receiver in five of his 10 seasons. He was selected to play in the first three AFC-NFL Pro Bowl Games.

In 1982, Taylor received the distinguished honor of being inducted into the Chiefs Hall of Fame. He currently resides in Kansas City.

RICK REIPRISH, Talent Scout

Beginning his second year in the Chiefs personnel department is Rick Reiprish, who comes from the pro football scouting combine of Blesto, Inc. The 32-year-old Reiprish had been at Blesto three years, in charge of a six-state area in southeastern United States.

Prior to that, Reiprish was an assistant coach for six years in the collegiate ranks. While finishing up his master's degree in administration from Austin Peay, he coached wide receivers in 1973 and running backs from 1974-76. He became the offensive backfield and quarterback coach at East Tennessee State in '77, then moved to North Alabama, where he tutored the offensive line in '78.

A native of Shamokin, Pa., Reiprish and his wife, Janet, have a three-year-old son, Drew.

MIKE BELL ● 99
Defensive End   Ht: 6-4   Wt: 260

How Acquired: Draft (No. 1a-1979)
College: Colorado State
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: August 30, 1957
Birthplace: Wichita, Kansas
Residence: Overland Park, Kansas

Bell is anticipating his second full injury-free season in 1983 and it is vitally important to the Chiefs defense that he does ... He is one of the strongest and most powerful defensive ends in the league, but for the third time in four years he spent part of the season on the injured reserve list in '82 ... He missed most of the San Diego game after pulling a hamstring ... He then suffered a groin pull at New Orleans which caused him to miss a start against the Rams, then he re-injured it versus the Raiders early in the game and was put on IR for the final three contests ... In all, he missed three full games and parts of three others ... He played in six games and started five of those ... Bell was effective when he was healthy, making 27 tackles (21 unassisted) ... Bell and Art Still provide the Chiefs with an end tandem hard to match around the NFL, but they have played together in only 30 of the 57 games they have been teammates due to one or the other being injured ... Some of those 30 they have not each been 100 percent healthy ... Bell's best season came in 1981, when he was healthy for all 16 games and was the Chiefs third-leading tackler with 77 and second in sacks with five for 45 yards in losses ... He was a big reason the Chiefs defense ranked first in the AFC versus the run that year ... In 1980, he played in only two games before undergoing surgery to repair a bicep muscle in the shoulder area which separated from the bone as he was rushing the passer versus Seattle ... He had eight tackles and 1½ sacks before being sidelined for the final 14 games ... Because he played in less than three games in '80, he wasn't credited with an official year of NFL experience, so he enters his fourth official season in '83 ... He appeared in 11 games his rookie year of '79, missing five at midseason due to a strained knee ... He broke into the starting lineup for the final four games and finished with 35 tackles and 5½ sacks that year ... Career log reads 35 games, 27 starts, 147 tackles and 12 sacks for 101½ yards in losses ... At Colorado State, he had a brilliant four-year career, but knee surgery at the end of his senior season kept him from playing in any post-season all-star games ... Was a first team All-America selection by The Sporting News and was named to the second team by AP and UPI ... A unanimous all-Western Athletic Conference choice his final two seasons ... Racked up 36 sacks during his four years at CSU ... His twin brother, Mark, is a defensive end for the Seattle Seahawks ... The two Bells and Gary Spani conducted a football camp for youngsters during the off-season for the second consecutive summer in Wichita ... Attended Bishop Carroll H.S. in Wichita, where he began playing football his junior year ... Majored in business ... Full name: Mike J. Bell ... Single.

JERRY BLANTON ● 57
Linebacker Ht: 6-1 Wt: 236

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)
College: Kentucky
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: December 20, 1956
Birthplace: Toledo, Ohio
Residence: Toledo, Ohio

Playing consistently throughout the entire 1982 season, Blanton finished as the team's third-leading tackler with a total of 60 ... Starting all nine games at inside linebacker, his 38 solo tackles and 22 assisted stops gave him a total which was just behind Art Still (68) and Gary Spani (64) ... He also contributed one quarterback sack and tied for the club lead by forcing two fumbles ... His most impressive performance came in the Chiefs win at Denver, when he was in on 10 tackles and sacked QB Steve DeBerg for an eight yard loss ... Now a fifth-year veteran, Blanton has been a starter at an inside spot since the latter part of the 1980 season ... He signed with the Chiefs as a free agent in '79 and was one of the club's best kicking team performers that year and in 1980 ... He backed up Whitney Paul at outside linebacker his first season, then moved to an inside spot in '80 and earned a starting berth the final three games ... He finished that campaign with 39 total tackles ... In 1981, Blanton played well when he was healthy, making 66 total tackles in nine games ... He missed the first six games after suffering a strained knee in the final preseason game, then missed the season finale after reinjuring the same knee against the same team, Miami, in the regular season ... Was an 11th round draft choice of the Buffalo Bills in 1978 ... After being released, he played briefly with Hamilton of the CFL before reporting to the Chiefs ... Played on the defensive line with Art Still at Kentucky and was an all-Southeast Conference performer as a senior ... Majored in criminology ... Attended DeVilbiss H.S. in Toledo, where he was a fullback and linebacker ... Full name: Jerry Blanton ... Single.

He was signed by the Chiefs in April of 1982 as a free agent ... A 10th round draft choice by the Baltimore Colts in 1981, Bryant was released and then picked up by the Washington Redskins during their '81 training camp ... He spent the first three games of the '81 campaign with the Redskins as a backup defensive back before being waived ... Bryant was a three-year starter at the University of Arkansas and registered 75 career tackles ... Jackson won the starting fullback job in '82 and showed his versatility by filling in for the injured Joe Delaney at halfback on occasion ... He started seven games at fullback and one at halfback, finishing the season as the Chiefs second-leading rusher with 243 yards on 86 carries next to Delaney's 380 yards ... Starting all but the final game, when he played sparingly because of a toe injury, Jackson scored all three of the Chiefs rushing touchdowns ... He also made five receptions for 41 yards during the season ... His highest single-game rushing total in '82 came in the season opener at Buffalo when he picked up 53 yards on 12 carries ... He also caught a 13-yard pass in that game, the longest of his career ... At Denver, where he made the start at halfback, Jackson carried the ball 19 times and gained 49 yards ... The 19 rushes were the most on the club last year and the second-most of his NFL career next to the 25 attempts in the '81 finale ... Jackson established himself as the Chiefs goal line and short yardage specialist his rookie campaign ... A seventh-round draft choice in '81, he set a club season record by scoring 10 rushing touchdowns and had a total of 11 ... His 66 points ranked him fourth in the AFC among non-kickers ... He finished his rookie season with 398 yards rushing on 111 carries while playing in all 16 games ... The top performance of his pro career came in his first start in the season finale at Minnesota, when he was the lone running back in the backfield, and rambled for 102 yards on 25 carries, both career highs, helping the Chiefs to a 10-6 victory and winning season ... He saw limited action in the first seven games that year, but came into his own during game eight at Oakland, where he scored three touchdowns while playing halfback for the first time ... He caught six passes for 31 yards as a rookie and returned three kickoffs early in the season for 60 yards ... In his two NFL seasons, Jackson has rushed for 641 yards on 197 carries and scored 13 of the Chiefs 25 rushing touchdowns ... Playing in all 25 of the Chiefs games those two years, he also has caught 11 passes for 72 yards and another touchdown ... At Alabama, Jackson was a three-year letter-winner, but didn't compile great statistics because of Bear Bryant's system of using numerous running backs ... Gained 606 yards on 111 carries his senior season, earning all-Southwest Conference second-team honors and was named honorable mention All-America by the Associated Press ... Was a member of two national championship teams with the Crimson Tide in 1978 and '79 ... Also played in the Senior Bowl ... Majored in social work ... Attended Central H.S. in Phenix City, Ala. ... Enjoys fishing and hunting ... Full name: Billy Thurman Jackson ... Married, wife Saundra.

College: Washington
NFL Experience: 6
Birthdate: March 22, 1955
Birthplace: Berkeley, California
Residence: Fairway, Kansas

Jackson started all nine games at right outside linebacker last season and has now occupied that spot the past two years ... He ended the '82 campaign with 40 tackles (29 solos, 11 assists) and he led the club in fumble recoveries with two ... The first helped the Chiefs knock off the San Diego Chargers, picking up the loose ball at the Chargers 44-yard line and returning it three yards which led to a field goal in the Chiefs 19-12 win ... The second came versus the Rams at the L.A. 23-yard line in the closing minutes, giving the Chiefs a final chance to come from behind ... Jackson did the little things throughout the season that often go unnoticed: two caused fumbles, one caused interception, two pass breakups, two pass deflections and seven quarterback pressures ... His top tackle output last year was eight versus San Francisco and he teamed with Dino Mangiero to sack QB Joe Montana ... In five NFL seasons with the Chiefs, Jackson has played in 67 games, made 24 starts (including 11 straight), totaled 170 tackles, and recovered six fumbles for 36 yards ... In 1981, his first season as a full-time starter, he was off to a fast start before spraining his right ankle in the ninth game ... He missed two games and never regained full form ... He played in 14 games that year, started 11, and was in on 62 tackles, 53 of which he made during the first eight games prior to the injury ... He put together an amazing show in the '81 opener at Pittsburgh, recovering three fumbles to help the Chiefs upset the Steelers ... Jackson joined the Chiefs via waivers from the Denver Broncos in 1978 and spent most of his first three seasons in Kansas City as a kicking teams player ... He totaled 68 tackles those three years at linebacker ... Made four starts at inside linebacker in '79, replacing the injured Frank Manumaleuga ... Following the '80 season, he signed with Edmonton of the CFL as a free agent, but was waived by the Eskimos during Canadian training camp ... Because he was released prior to July 15, he was eligible to return to the NFL in '81 and requested another try in Kansas City ... Was a ninth round draft choice by Denver in 1977, but spent that entire season on injured reserve ... Broncos cut him late in '78 before joining the Chiefs ...

Earned all-Pacific Eight honors in 1975 at Washington and was an Associated Press honorable mention All-America selection ... Attended Berkeley H.S. in California ... Full name: Charles Melvin Jackson ... Married, wife Claudia.

BILL KENNEY ● 9
Quarterback   Ht: 6-4   Wt: 211

How Acquired: Free Agent (1979)
College: Northern Colorado
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: January 20, 1955
Birthplace: San Francisco, California
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

After an intense preseason battle in '82, Kenney won the starting quarterback job and opened the first three and final three games of the nine-game campaign ... Again in '83, he will have to contend with Steve Fuller for the No. 1 job, plus a new candidate in first round draft choice Todd Blackledge ... Kenney finished as the AFC's seventh-ranked passer with 77.0 rating points last year ... He completed 95 of 169 passes for 1,192 yards, seven touchdowns, six interceptions, and the best completion percentage of his pro career, 56.2 percent ... His best game was in the season finale against the New York Jets, when he threw for 223 yards and completed 18 of 27 passes, including 11 in a row ... He also threw three touchdown passes in that game for the second time in his career, the first coming in the 1980 season finale versus Baltimore ... Kenney was very effective in the Chiefs big win over San Diego, completing 22 of 30 passes for 203 yards; his 73.3 completion percentage was second-best of his career next to 77.2 percent (17 of 22) versus Seattle in '81 ... After starting the first three games last year, he was replaced in the second half at New Orleans by Fuller ... He did not play in the games at L.A. and Pittsburgh, but replaced Fuller in the fourth quarter versus the Raiders ... It was his first relief appearance as a pro and he connected on nine of 15 attempts for 134 yards and led the Chiefs to their only touchdown in the short stint ... He then played all the way in the final three contests ... Kenney was the starter in the three games the Chiefs won in '82 and the club now has a 13-9 record with him as the starting quarterback ... Entering his fifth NFL season, his career statistics include 512 attempts, 279 completions, 3,717 yards, 54.5 completion percentage, 21 touchdowns, 24 interceptions and a 71.8 rating ... He also has rushed 45 times for 137 yards and one TD ... Kenney's best pro season was in 1981, when he started the first 13 games and completed 147 of 274 passes for 1,983 yards and nine touchdowns before being replaced by Fuller in the final three contests ... He had battled Fuller for the starting job during that preseason and claimed it when Fuller injured a knee ... Extremely impressive in the first seven games that year, he opened the season by leading the Chiefs to a victory over Pittsburgh, completing 14 of 26 passes for 242 yards and two touchdowns ... In game three at San Diego, he connected on 22 of 41 attempts for 303 yards, all three figures season highs ... Although he tossed five interceptions, the 41 attempts were the third-highest total in Chiefs history and it marked the second game he had thrown for over 300 yards in his career ... He also threw for 239 yards versus Seattle and for 287 yards against the Raiders that season ... The first regular season action of Kenney's NFL career came in 1980 when he replaced the injured Fuller in the final three games ... Leading the Chiefs to victory in two of the three, he passed for 542 yards, including 142 in his first game and a career-high 316 in the finale versus Baltimore ... That was the first time since Mike Livingston in 1976 that a Chiefs quarterback passed for 300 yards in a game ... Kenney was on the Chiefs active roster all 16 games in 1979, but didn't play a down ... A 12th-round draft choice by the Miami Dolphins in 1978,

Kenney was the next to last player taken in the draft ... Miami traded him to Washington during the preseason, but the Redskins released him and he sat out the '78 season ... He signed with the Chiefs as a free agent in '79 and beat out Pete Woods for the third quarterback spot, behind Fuller and Livingston ... Kenney began his collegiate career at Arizona State under Frank Kush, now head coach at Baltimore, but transferred to Saddleback (Calif.) Junior College and then on to Northern Colorado ... At UNC, he played tight end as a junior, catching 17 passes, then subbed at quarterback in two games and completed 18 of 40 passes ... He then played QB fulltime as a senior, completing 97 of 226 passes for 1,264 yards and seven touchdowns ... Attended San Clemente H.S. in California ... Majored in business administration ... His father, Charles, was a guard for the San Francisco 49ers in 1947 ... Hobbies include fishing, hunting, golf and gardening ... Active in the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and makes numerous speaking engagements in conjunction with the organization ... Full name: William Patrick Kenney ... Married, wife Sandy, two children.

College: Concordia (Minn.)
NFL Experience: 3
Birthdate: May 17, 1958
Birthplace: Litchfield, Minnesota
Residence: Litchfield, Minnesota

If Klug's performance in the '82 season finale was any indication, he will be pushing for a full-time starting position at linebacker in '83 ... Making his first NFL start for the injured Gary Spani, Klug responded with 11 solo tackles and one assist to lead the defense in a 37-13 drubbing of the New York Jets ... His tackle output in that game surpassed his career total of seven tackles up to that point ... Klug had been used primarily on kicking teams his first two seasons and played sparingly at linebacker ... He can play both inside and outside linebacker, spending his rookie season on the outside and all of last year inside ... One of the top kicking teams players on the squad, Klug was a big factor in the Chiefs 19-12 win over the San Diego Chargers last September when he recovered a blocked punt early in the game in the endzone for the Chiefs only touchdown ... Although he was a 1980 draft choice, Klug injured his ankle while working out on a Cybex machine prior to the draft ... After the ankle didn't respond to treatment, surgery was performed and he missed the entire season ... At Concordia College in Minnesota, he was a three-year starter as a standup defensive end ... Was a two-time first team selection by the Minnesota Intercollegiate Athletic Conference ... As a junior, his team won the NCAA Division III national championship ... How Acquired: Draft (No. 7-1979)
College: Ball State
NFL Experience: 5
Birthdate: July 16, 1957

Kremer started all nine games in the middle of the Chiefs three-man defensive line and finished the season with 36 tackles (18 solos, 18 assists) ... He had 1½ sacks to bring his career total to 17½ ... His 9½ sacks over the last two seasons is the most among Chiefs players ... His top performance last year was against the L.A. Raiders at Arrowhead when he totaled 10 tackles, the most in a single game in his career and was credited with 1½ sacks for 15½ yards in losses ... Kremer has played in all but two games since coming to Kansas City as the Chiefs seventh round draft choice in 1978 ... He played in all 16 games as a rookie, totaling 27 tackles and four sacks for 30 yards in losses ... In 1980, he got off to a slow start after injuring his ankle and knee in the final preseason game, but ended the campaign with 20 tackles in 14 games ... He had one fumble recovery and four sacks for 44 yards in losses that year ... Kremer improved dramatically in 1981, starting eight games and becoming one of the Chiefs top pass rushers ... It was his first season of playing strictly one position, as he alternated between nose tackle and defensive end his first two years ... Made two fumble recoveries in '81, one each in the season opener and the season finale ... At Ball State, he was named to the Mid-America Conference first team his final two years and was the conference player of the year as a senior ... How Acquired: Waivers (San Diego-1978)
College: Boston University
NFL Experience: 6
Birthdate: November 16, 1955
Birthplace: Cambridge, Massachusetts

For the third consecutive year Lindstrom entered the starting lineup due to an injury to Art Still or Mike Bell, and for the third consecutive year he performed superbly ... He came to the Chiefs rescue once again last season when Bell was in and out of the lineup throughout the campaign with a groin pull ... Lindstrom started in four games in '82, including the final three contests when Bell was on injured reserve ... He registered 19 tackles and three quarterback sacks in the nine games and came up with several big plays ... His best performance was in the Chiefs big win over the San Diego Chargers at the home opener, when he replaced Bell in the first quarter and sacked QB Dan Fouts twice, one of which forced a fumble which led to a Chiefs field goal ... He was awarded a game ball by his teammates following the victory ... Lindstrom has started over half the games (23 of 41) the past three seasons ... In 1980, he started 14 games when Bell went down early in the season and finished with 30 tackles and four sacks ... NICK LOWERY ● 8
Placekicker   Ht: 6-4   Wt: 189

How Acquired: Free Agent (1980)
College: Dartmouth
NFL Experience: 4
Birthdate: May 27, 1956
Birthplace: Munich, Germany
Residence: Lee's Summit, Missouri

The NFL's most productive placekicker since entering the league in 1980, Lowery is coming off his third consecutive banner performance ... His 65 field goals and 75.6 percent accuracy over the last three years both rank first among kickers who have been in the NFL all three full seasons ... He also is second in points scored with 286, next to San Diego's Rolf Benirscke with 310, over that same period ... Lowery is the main reason the Chiefs kicking teams have ranked among the top in the NFL in all categories combined the past several years ... Earning All-Pro status in 1981, he followed that with another stellar campaign last year and earned second-team All-AFC honors from UPI ... In nine games in '82, Lowery connected on 19 of 24 field goal attempts for a 79.2 completion percentage, which broke the Chiefs all-time seasonal record of 77.1 percent set by Jan Stenerud in 1969 ... His 19 field goals were tops in the AFC (for the second straight year) and second in the NFL next to Washington's Mark Moseley, who made 20 ... Lowery finished second in the AFC scoring race among kickers with 74 points, next to Benirscke's 80, and third in the entire NFL ... For the second consecutive year, Lowery made seven field goals in the first two games of the regular season ... He was three of four in the season opener at Buffalo, with his only miss coming from 54 yards out ... He then connected on all four attempts in a 19-12 win over San Diego, the second time in his NFL career he has made four field goals in a single game (the first time was in 1981 vs. Tampa Bay) ... Perfect inside the 40-yard line in '82, three of his five misses came from over 50 yards out ... That gave him a 90.5 percent completion accuracy inside the 50-yard line last year and he has now made 60 of 70 attempts inside midfield in his NFL career for an 85.7 percentage ... He also made all 17 PAT kicks last season and has now completed 98 of 99 extra point attempts (and made the first 76 attempts in his career) ... Lowery's 1981 campaign was even more brilliant, capping it by winning the Pro Bowl Game for the AFC with a 23-yard field goal with three seconds remaining ... He scored 115 points that season, tying him for first in the AFC with Cincinnati's Jim Breech and was the fourth-highest seasonal point total in Chiefs history ... He connected on 26 of 36 field goal attempts for 72.2 percent, good for third in the AFC in accuracy ... The 26 field goals was the most in the AFC and tied him for third on the Chiefs all-time list ... During a four-game stretch, he connected on seven consecutive field goal attempts, the most in his career ... He hit 25 of 29 attempts inside the 50-yard line that season ... In addition to being named the AFC's starting kicker in the Pro Bowl in '81, he was selected to the All-NFL team by Newspaper Enterprise Assn., and the UPI All-AFC first team ... Lowery beat out longtime Kansas City legend Jan Stenerud in 1980 as a rookie free agent and rebutted the skeptics quickly with superb kicking ... In the second game of the season (Seattle), he boomed a 57-yard field goal, which broke the Chiefs record of 55 yards set by Stenerud in 1970 and is the third longest in NFL history ... He made good on 20 of 26 field goal attempts that year, including 16 of 19 inside midfield ... He finished his rookie season with 97 points ... Before winning a spot with the Chiefs, Lowery had tried unsuccessfully with eight other NFL teams ... After not being drafted out of Dartmouth, he tried with the New York Jets in 1978 but was cut during training camp ... He then signed with New England in the middle of that season and appeared in two games with the Patriots, connecting on all seven PAT's and missing his only field goal attempt before being released ... In 1979, he failed in tryouts with Cincinnati, Washington, Baltimore, New Orleans, Tampa Bay and San Diego ... He spent part of the last two off-seasons in Washington, D.C., working last spring as a special assistant in the U.S. Department of Transportation and working in the spring of '82 as a special assistant to Missouri Senator Tom Eagleton ... Spent part of his childhood growing up in Europe, where he played both rugby and soccer ... His father worked for the State Department at the American Embassy in London ... Majored in government ... Interests include politics, drama, jazz music and drums ... Full name: Dominic Gerald Lowery ... Single.

HENRY MARSHALL ● 89
Wide Receiver   Ht: 6-2   Wt: 220

How Acquired: Draft (No. 3d-1976)
College: Missouri
NFL Experience: 8
Birthdate: August 9, 1954
Birthplace: Broxton, Georgia
Residence: Kansas City, Missouri

Had Marshall been able to play in the normal 16-game schedule in '82, he would have shattered his personal receiving bests and possibly several Chiefs season records ... Putting together the most productive game-by-game season of his NFL career, he caught 40 passes for 549 yards in nine contests ... That pace would have easily surpassed his career-high 1980 totals of 47 receptions and 799 yards ... That average would also have given him 71 receptions in 16 games, which would have broken the Chiefs all-time mark of 68, and would have given him 976 yards, which would rank third on the charts ... His '82 per game averages were 4.4 receptions and 61.0 yards, both career highs ... His season totals moved him into fourth place on the Chiefs career pass receptions list with 223, behind Otis Taylor (410), Chris Burford (391) and Ed Podolak (288) ... It also put him in third place on the club's career pass receiving yardage with 3,621, behind Taylor (7,306) and Burford (5,525) ... Ranking seventh in the AFC and 10th in the entire NFL in pass receptions last year, Marshall caught at least three passes in every game ... His best outings in '82 were a six-catch, 61-yard performance with two touchdowns in the season finale against the New York Jets and a five-catch, 98-yard effort versus the Pittsburgh Steelers ... His two TD's against the Jets marked the second time in his pro career for the feat, the first coming in the '80 finale versus Baltimore ... Establishing himself as one of the top wide receivers in the league the past three years, despite being in a run-oriented offense, Marshall's statistics have increased as he becomes more involved in the Chiefs offense ... With Coach John Mackovic's pass-oriented offense in '83, Marshall's numbers should grow even larger and give him added exposure ... Entering his eighth NFL season, he has the most experience among Chiefs receivers and of his teammates, only offensive linemen Tom Condon and Charlie Getty (both in their 10th years) have played in the league longer ... During that span, Marshall has been the most consistent person in the Chiefs passing attack ... He has played in 97 of a possible 101 games and started 93 of those ... The only games he missed were the final four of the '82 campaign, when a sprained knee sidelined him ... His importance to the Chiefs aerial attack became evident when the passing game curtailed considerably during those four contests ... He has caught at least one pass in each of the last 19 games he has played and has started 45 consecutive games he has played ... Marshall has put together four games in which he has gained more than 100 yards in receiving; three in 1980 and one in 1981 ... The top game of his pro career came in the '80 finale against the Baltimore Colts, when he caught nine passes for 176 yards and two touchdowns, including a career-long 75 yarder ... The 176 yards is fifth-most in Chiefs history for a single game ... Most of his season highs also came in '80: 47 receptions, 799 yards and six touchdowns ... His best seasonal average per catch came in '77, when he compiled a 19.3 average ... Marshall also has been used frequently on the end-around throughout his career, with 24 total attempts for 257 yards and a 10.7 average ... The most success came his rookie year, when he gained 101 yards on five tries, including a career-long 59 yarder for a touchdown ... He carried the ball three times last year for 25 yards, with a long of 16 ... Marshall was the Chiefs fourth pick of the third round in the '76 draft on a choice obtained from the Houston Oilers in a deal involving Curley Culp ... He stepped in as a starter immediately and had similar statistics in each of his first four seasons, catching between 20-30 passes each year ... Broke into his own during a superb 1980 campaign and has been among the NFL's elite since ... Marshall enjoyed a superb senior season at Missouri, catching 44 passes for 945 yards and nine touchdowns ... His first three years were less productive as the Tigers used the wishbone formation, but the offense opened up his final year and was highlighted by his Big Eight record 207-yard receiving performance versus Oklahoma State ... A tremendous athlete, he played varsity baseball and basketball as a freshman at Hillcrest H.S. in Dalzell, S.C., and both teams won state championships ... NFL Experience: 6

Birthdate: October 29, 1955
Birthplace: Leonard, Texas
Residence: Blue Springs, Missouri

The Chiefs all-time leading punt returner and a starter at wide receiver since 1979, Smith is hoping to bounce back this year after an injury-married '82 season ... After leading the Chiefs in receiving two years ago, he caught just 10 passes for 168 yards last season because he was only completely healthy for one game ... He did not play in four games and was not at full strength in four others due to injuries ... He pulled a hamstring in the first half of the season opener, which caused him to miss the second game ... In his only completely healthy outing, game three at New Orleans, Smith put on a spectacular show by catching six passes for 101 yards, including a season-long 51 yarder ... He then missed parts of the next two games and all of the following three contests with a bruised sciatic nerve ... He recovered in time to play in part of the season finale versus the New York Jets ... His injuries forced him away from punt returning duties, as his only returns of the season came against the L.A. Rams when he brought back three for 26 yards ... In all, Smith played in five games and started three ... One of the most productive free agents in Chiefs history, Smith has made 152 career receptions for 2,119 yards, a 13.9 average and eight touchdowns in 4½ seasons ... His best receiving year was in '81, when he led the club with 63 catches for 852 yards, snatching at least one pass in every game ... The 63 receptions were third-most for a season in team history and was the best showing by a Chiefs wide receiver since 1963, when Chris Burford set the club mark with 68 ... The 852 yards was the fifth-best all-time total ... The best single game of his pro career came versus San Diego that year when he grabbed nine passes for 140 yards ... He started the first 15 games in '81, until a rib injury forced him to miss part of the season finale ... In 1980, he was the Chiefs second-leading receiver with 46 receptions, one behind Henry Marshall, for 655 yards while starting all 16 games ... In '79, his first full season with the Chiefs, he started 13 games and made 33 receptions, third-most on the team and first among wide receivers, for 444 yards ... Most of Smith's fame has come as a punt returner, where he has reached All-Pro status and ranks ninth on the NFL's all-time punt return list (minimum of 75 returns required to make the list) with an 11.5 career average ... The only active players ahead of Smith on the list is Atlanta's Billy "White Shoes" Johnson and Denver's Rick Upchurch ... Smith's 151 returns and 1,747 yards with the Chiefs both rank first on the franchise's career punt returning charts ... He holds the top three spots in the club's annals for number of punt returns and punt return yardage in a season ... He also has the longest punt return in Chiefs history, an 88-yarder versus the Raiders in 1979, and he compiled the most single game yardage that day with 141 yards ... Smith began his assault on the Chiefs record books in '79, when he returned 58 punts for 612 yards ... Both figures were tops on the club's all-time charts and were the best in the AFC that year, while his 10.6 average ranked second in the conference ... Smith became an All-Pro in 1980 when he led the NFL in punt returning with a 14.5 average ... His 40 returns and 581 yards boosted him into first as the Chiefs all-time punt returner in just his second full year with the team ... In addition to being named to the Pro Bowl, he was the punt returner on all-pro teams selected by AP, Football Digest and Pro Football Writers ... In 1981, he led the AFC in punt returns, with 50, and in yards, with 528, and he was named as an alternate to the AFC's Pro Bowl squad ... He was the only player to handle a punt return for the Chiefs from 1979-81 ... Smith signed with the Chiefs as a free agent in the middle of the '78 season after being released by the Washington Redskins ... He had signed with the Redskins as a free agent and played six games in '78 as a defensive back, running back, wide receiver and kick returner ... He played in six more games with the Chiefs, exclusively on kicking teams ... Has three career 100-yard-plus pass receiving games (plus a 99-yard day) and three punt returning performances over 100 yards ... Has been on the receiving end of both Steve Fuller's and Bill Kenney's first pro touchdown passes ... Was a standout collegiate wide receiver during a four-year career at North Texas State, but wasn't drafted following his senior season ... Majored in recreation ... Full name: John Thomas Smith ... Averaging 9.5 tackles per game as he enters his sixth year, Spani has been a big factor in the development of the Chiefs defense since 1978 ... He led the club in total tackles each of his first four seasons, then finished second to Art Still last year when he missed the finale with a neck injury ... The anchor of the Chiefs linebacking corps, Spani has played in 70 of a possible 73 games in his career and started 69 of those, which included a string of 60 straight until missing the '82 finale ... His top tackle output last year came at New Orleans, when he made 11 solo stops and three assists ... He was in on at least six tackles in each game for the second consecutive season ... He turned in a gutsy performance at Denver, recovering a fumble in the fourth quarter which set up the Chiefs clinching touchdown and forcing another fumble, while fighting a bad case of the flu ... hard-hitting Spani, who calls all the Chiefs defensive signals, is considered one of the better linebackers in the league but has yet to be named to the Pro Bowl ... During his first four pro campaigns, which were 16-game schedules, he averaged just over 150 total tackles per season ... Another superb season in 1982 earned Still his third consecutive berth to the Pro Bowl ... Further enhancing his label as the cornerstone of the Chiefs defense, Still led the club in total tackles with 68 (44 solos, 24 assists), quarterback sacks with 3½, for minus 30½ yards, QB pressures with 13 and deflected passes with five ... His consistently dominating play versus AFC opponents prompted his peers to select him as a starter at defensive end for the AFC in the Pro Bowl ... Starting all nine games, he gathered double figures in tackles in three games: a season-high 12 at Pittsburgh, 11 at New Orleans and 10 in the opener at Buffalo ... Versus San Francisco, he recovered a Russ Francis fumble and returned it four yards ... In addition to the Pro Bowl, Still was named to the All-AFC second team by UPI ... He has amassed 533 total tackles, including 35 sacks for minus 280½ yards ... He also had one fumble recovery in each of his five campaigns ... Still teams with Mike Bell, a first-round draft choice in '79, for one of the finest defensive end duos in the league, but they have played together healthy in less than half the games since becoming teammates ... Studdard seems to be the leading candidate to replace the retired Jack Rudnay at center in '83, after sharing time at the position last season ... His performance in 1982 prompted his teammates to select him as winner of the Mack Lee Hill Award, which goes annually to the Chiefs rookie who "best exemplifies the spirit" of the late Hill ... He became only the second offensive lineman to ever win the award (Rudnay was the first) and was the first offensive player to win it seven years ... Although he was drafted as a guard, Studdard was switched to center during the '82 training camp and made the adjustment quickly ... When Rudnay suffered a knee injury in the third quarter of the season opener, Studdard stepped in and performed admirably ... He started at center the following week versus the San Diego Chargers and was awarded a game ball by his teammates after the Chiefs win because of his good performance ... He was the starter in game three at New Orleans, then was a backup to Rudnay the rest of the campaign, playing in all nine contests ... Played defensive tackle his first three seasons, then was switched to outside linebacker last year ... Good overall athletic ability and intelligence allowed him to make the switch successfully ... He accumulated 99 total tackles in his career (45 unassisted, 54 assists), including 12 tackles behind the line of scrimmage ... His senior campaign was his best, totaling 40 tackles and earning second team All-Big Ten honors from AP and honorable mention All-Big Ten honors from UPI ... CHIEF-PRODUCING COLLEGES

Of the 352 players on the Chiefs/Texans all-time roster through the 1982 season, the college which has produced the most is Louisiana State University, with 11. Next in line is Miami (Fla.) with nine, then Kansas, Prairie View, Southern Methodist and Tennessee State, all which have provided eight players.

1962 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
DALLAS at HOUSTON
December 23, 1962

A contest that moved the infant American Football League into the national consciousness proved to be the first of three AFL titles for Hank Stram's Texans/Chiefs.

Following second place finishes in each of the league's first two seasons, the Texans ran away with the AFL West championship in 1962. Dallas finished 11-3, a full four games in front, and was matched with the Houston Oilers, also 11-3, who had won the AFL title in 1960 and '61 over the Los Angeles, then San Diego Chargers.

The Texans, paced by a pair of touchdowns from Abner Haynes, took a 17-0 halftime advantage. Haynes scored first on a 28-yard pass from Len Dawson and then on a two-yard run after Tommy Brooker had given Dallas a 3-0 first-quarter advantage with a 16-yard field goal.

But the momentum quickly shifted to the Oilers in the second half. George Blanda, then a "young" 35-year-old, passed 15 yards to Willard Dewveall for a touchdown and kicked a 31-yard field goal before Charley Tolar burst over from the one to tie the game at 17-17 in the fourth quarter.

The two teams then went into the first sudden death overtime in AFL annals. The Texans won the toss and Stram elected to kick off, maintaining his defense could hold the Oilers long enough for Dawson to get the ball in good field position. Herein came the famous "kick to the clock" episode in which Texans captain Haynes inadvertently elected for his team to kick into the wind instead of having it as the consolation for not receiving the football.

Neither club mounted a serious challenge in the early stages of overtime, but as the fifth quarter was drawing to a close, Dallas defensive end Bill Hull intercepted a Blanda pass and returned to midfield. Dawson then passed to Jack Spikes for 10 yards. Spikes, the game's most valuable player, ran for 19 and the Texans were in field goal range. At the 2:54 mark of the sixth quarter, Brooker kicked a 25-yard field goal to give the Texans a 20-17 victory and the American Football League championship. The game lasted 77 minutes and 54 seconds and would be the longest in pro football history until the Chiefs and Miami Dolphins played over 82 minutes nearly a decade later in 1971.

1966 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
KANSAS CITY at BUFFALO
January 1, 1967

With a berth in Super Bowl I as the prize, the Chiefs visited ancient War Memorial Stadium for a New Year's Day clash with the defending AFL champion Buffalo Bills.

The game, played in frigid, subzero temperatures, produced its first break on the opening kickoff. Jerrel Wilson recovered a Bills fumble on the Buffalo 31-yard line. Three plays later, Len Dawson passed 29 yards to Fred Arbanas for the first touchdown and a 7-0 Kansas City lead.

Buffalo, though, tied the game near the end of the opening period when Jack Kemp hit Elbert Dubenion on a 69-yard pass play. Few thought it would be the Bills final score of the day.

The Chiefs defense stiffened and Dawson led the offense to 10 second-quarter points. Otis Taylor caught a 29-yard touchdown pass and Mike Mercer added a 32-yard field goal, aided by a 72-yard pass interception by Johnny Robinson.

Mike Garrett then applied the coup de grace for the Chiefs by scoring on runs of one and 18 yards. Kansas City won its second AFL title in four years and awaited the Green Bay Packers in Super Bowl I.

SUPER BOWL I
KANSAS CITY vs GREEN BAY
January 15, 1967

Representing themselves and the American Football League in the first championship match with the National Football League, the Chiefs played well for one half before bowing to the supremacy of the Green Bay Packers.

Vince Lombardi's Packers, one of the great pro football teams of all time, won Super Bowl I by a 35-10 score. But the Packers held a slim 14-10 advantage at the half before the game turned on one play in the third quarter.

Green Bay opened the scoring when Bart Starr passed 37 yards to Max McGee, McGee making a remarkable one-handed catch for the touchdown. Len Dawson tied the game for the Chiefs when he passed to Curtis McClinton for a second period touchdown. The Packers then went back on top, 14-7, before Mike Mercer kicked a 31-yard field goal just before the half ended.

The Chiefs momentum carried over into the third quarter as Kansas City moved to a first down on its initial possession. But then the game's key play, one that doomed the underdog Chiefs, unfolded when Willie Wood intercepted a Dawson pass intended for Fred Arbanas at midfield. Wood returned all the way to the Chiefs 5-yard line, where Elijah Pitts ran for a third Green Bay touchdown and an insurmountable 21-10 lead.

1969 AFL CHAMPIONSHIP GAME
KANSAS CITY at OAKLAND
January 4, 1970

On the day the American Football League played the final game of its 10-year history, the Kansas City Chiefs became the only three-time AFL champion. The Chiefs, through a curious playoff system, played their Western Division rivals, the Oakland Raiders, for the league's last title. Oakland, which had won the AFL West and held a pair of regular season wins over the Chiefs, went down to a 17-7 defeat, the first of several AFL/AFC title game defeats that have bedeviled the Raiders during the past decade.

The contest, unlike other Raiders-Chiefs matchups, was marked by turnovers. The two clubs managed one first-half touchdown apiece, Oakland's on a three-yard run by Charlie Smith, Kansas City responding with a one-yard plunge by Wendell Hayes after Len Dawson had hit on passes of 14 yards to Otis Taylor and 41 yards to Frank Pitts.

In the third quarter, George Blanda twice missed field goal attempts that would have moved Oakland in front. Midway through the period, Kansas City mounted a drive from its own 2-yard line, the field position a result of a fumble which luckily was recovered before it bounded into the end zone. Dawson and Taylor pulled Kansas City out of the hole with a 35-yard pass and run play. Robert Holmes added 23 more on a flare pass in the left flat and then scored the go-ahead touchdown five plays later.

At this point, the game became a defensive struggle. Led by defensive charges from the entire front four of Aaron Brown, Buck Buchanan, Curley Culp and Jerry Mays, the Chiefs continually harassed Raiders quarterback Daryle Lamonica. But the turnovers which would plague both teams were only beginning.

In the fourth quarter, turnovers gave Oakland the football three times in Kansas City territory. Three times the Chiefs responded with interceptions, one each by Jim Marsalis, Jim Kearney and Emmitt Thomas. Thomas' steal was his second of the day and covered 62 yards to the Oakland 18-yard line. Jan Stenerud's field goal provided a 17-7 lead and a return to the Super Bowl.

SUPER BOWL IV
KANSAS CITY vs MINNESOTA
January 11, 1970

Kansas City's finest sports hour concluded at 5:20 in the afternoon of Sunday, January 11, 1970, when the Chiefs defeated the Minnesota Vikings, 23-7, for the world championship of pro football.

The Chiefs, who finished 11-3 on the season and defeated the New York Jets and Oakland in the playoffs, closed out their first decade as the outstanding team in the American Football League which, with Super Bowl IV, came to an end. Beginning in 1970, the two leagues merged, with the AFL becoming the American Football Conference of the NFL.

Minnesota, a prohibitive favorite, was 12-2 during the regular season and at one point had won 12 games in succession.

The Chiefs took an early lead when Jan Stenerud kicked a 48-yard first quarter field goal. Stenerud's kick remains a Super Bowl record. He then followed with field goals of 32 and 25 yards for a 9-0 lead.

Kansas City received the first break in the game when the Vikings Charlie West fumbled a kickoff and Remi Prudhomme recovered at the Minnesota 19-yard line. After an eight-yard loss, Len Dawson handed off to Wendell Hayes, who rambled for 13 yards up the middle on a draw play. A 10-yard pass to Otis Taylor gave the Chiefs a first down at the 4. Three plays later Mike Garrett burst off-tackle for five yards and a touchdown. The Chiefs held a 16-0 halftime lead, stunning the Vikings and a nationwide television audience.

Minnesota mounted a mild third-quarter comeback when Dave Osborn scored from four yards out to cut the margin to 16-7. But any hopes the Vikings had of getting closer were dashed by Otis Taylor, who lived up to his big-play reputation repeatedly through that season.

Dawson hit Taylor on a short hitch pattern, but when Earsell Mackbee missed the initial tackle, Taylor was loose down the right sideline, highstepping his way to a 46-yard touchdown. After three quarters, the Chiefs again held a 16-point lead.

As was so often the case in 1969, the defense came to the fore. Minnesota had the ball three times in the final period and, as in the Oakland game the previous week, the Chiefs snuffed out all three chances with interceptions. Middle linebacker Willie Lanier picked off a Joe Kapp pass to halt a rally at the Chiefs 34-yard line. Later on, Johnny Robinson, playing with what turned out to be three broken ribs, grabbed another errant Kapp throw. In the game's closing minutes, Emmitt Thomas intercepted his third pass of the playoffs. The Chiefs then ran out the clock to capture the AFL's second consecutive Super Bowl triumph.

The American Football League's 10-year history had come to an end with the Kansas City Chiefs its most successful team. The 1970s would usher in a new era for the Chiefs, an era that would produce noted changes as the club sought to regain its position as world champion.

CHIEFS CLUB

Chiefs Official Booster Organization

RICH WEBER

The Chiefs Club is the official booster organization for the Kansas City Chiefs and has long been regarded as one of the most active support groups in the National Football League.

With its official membership numbering 2,500, the Chiefs Club is active in ticket drives, special events, charter trips to away games and numerous civic and charitable functions in the greater Kansas City area.

Rich Weber is the new president of the Chiefs Club for the 1983 campaign. Weber owns a real estate company in Kearney, Mo. Instrumental in a big civic push that solidified the Chiefs franchise in Kansas City in the early sixties, the Chiefs Club continues to sponsor several civic functions each year. Major among the events are Kansas City's famous "101 Banquet," an annual salute to the outstanding players and coaches in the AFC and NFC and the annual Chiefs Club Kickoff Luncheon. The "101 Banquet" is a black tie awards dinner held in February and is recognized as one of pro football's finest awards dinners. The annual Kickoff Luncheon, staged the week of the Chiefs regular season home opener, salutes the 45-man Chiefs team at a special civic luncheon. In addition to hosting special in-season dinners with Chiefs coaches and players, the booster club stages several off-season social events and participates and coordinates two collegiate scholarships for area youths—the Len Dawson Scholarship and the Bruce Rice Scholarship.

MACK LEE HILL AWARD

LES STUDDARD

Each year since 1966, the Chiefs veteran players have selected a recipient for the Mack Lee Hill Award. It is a tribute to the late Mack Lee Hill, an outstanding running back who played for the Chiefs in 1964 and 1965. He was described as a man who played as much with his heart as he did with his driving legs in the early days of the American Football League.

In memory and tribute to Hill, the award is presented annually to the Chiefs rookie, who, as the inscription on the trophy reads — "best exemplifies the spirit of the late Mack Lee Hill ... the man with the giant heart and quiet way." In selecting the recipient, the chiefs veterans look for a first-year player who has displayed the spirit and attitude of Mack Lee Hill.

The 1982 winner of the award was center Les Studdard. The Chiefs 10th round draft choice in 1981 who spent that entire season on injured reserve with an ankle injury, Studdard was switched from guard to center during the '82 preseason. He started two games last season for the injured Jack Rudnay and is the heir apparent to the starting center job which Rudnay vacated by retiring at the end of the '82 season. A native of El Paso, Texas, the 6-4, 260-pound Studdard was an all-Southwest Conference guard at the University of Texas.

Running back Mack Lee Hill bursts forward for yardage against Oakland during his memorable two-year pro career with the Chiefs.

PRO FOOTBALL HALL OF FAME
BOBBY BELL
CLASS OF 1983

Possibly the best outside linebacker to ever play the game, Bobby Bell is the first Kansas City Chiefs player to be inducted into the Pro Football Hall of Fame.

Bell joins quarterback Sonny Jurgensen, wide receivers Bobby Mitchell and Paul Warfield and coach Sid Gillman as the Hall's class of 1983, and he becomes only the fifth player from the American Football League to be enshrined. Chiefs owner and AFL founder Lamar Hunt, of course, preceded all AFLers with his 1972 election to the Hall.

Many who played with and against the 6-4, 225-pound Bell feel he might have won equally lasting acclaim at several other positions than outside linebacker, either on offense or defense. As it was, Bell did excel in a wide variety of ways in two decades of gridiron play.

He was first a halfback and then an all-state quarterback at his home town high school in Shelby, N.C. He was a freshman quarterback at the University of Minnesota, but wound up as an All-America tackle. And in Kansas City, he started as a defensive end before moving to linebacker. Bell even snapped the ball on punts and kickoffs.

Bell was built in the shape of an inverted pyramid with massive shoulders tapering down to a 32-inch waist on his 225-pound frame. Along with that fearsome appearance, he had the ability and strength to withstand the punishment he had to take. Toss all of that in with exceptional agility and speed (4.5 in the 40) and you had all the attributes of the perfect outside linebacker.

Coach Hank Stram recognized all of those abilities when Bell first joined the Chiefs in 1963, but the Chiefs were blessed with excellent linebackers that year, so Bell became the team's left defensive end.

"The most important question was not where Bobby could play," Stram, who coached Bell throughout his pro career, remembers. "He could have helped us at a number of positions, even on offense. The real question was where we needed him most."

In his rookie season, Bell weighed just over 210, small by modern-day standards for a defensive lineman. But he tackled the job with characteristic enthusiasm and determination and soon became one of the top pass-rushers in the AFL. In his second campaign in 1965, he won all-AFL honors as a defensive end.

By Bell's third season in '66, Stram felt he had enough defensive line strength to permit Bell to make the permanent move to linebacker. There he developed into super-stardom, winning either all-AFL or all-AFC designation the next eight seasons. During that period, he starred on two AFL championship teams, played in Super Bowls I and IV and was named to the last six AFL All-Star games and the first three AFC-NFC Pro Bowl contests. Bell was picked to the all-time AFL team in 1969. He was inducted into the Kansas City Chiefs Hall of Fame in 1979.

Bell loved to handle the ball, and he did quite often, intercepting 26 passes in 12 years. He returned them 479 yards, an average of 18.4 yards per return, and scored six times on interceptions.

Bell, who operates his own barbecue restaurant in the Kansas City area today, undoubtedly would have been an outstanding player on the strength of his god-given talents alone. But what made him stand out from the crowd was his superior approach to the game, a willingness to play anywhere even when he was injured and his great joy at just playing the game.

"Attitude-wise, Bobby was a rookie all the years he played for us," Stram summarizes. "I think if you had a teamful of Bobby Bells, you'd want to coach forever and you'd win forever."

Now with his Pro Football Hall of Fame induction, Bobby Bell will be, as he should in the pro football world he represented so well, remembered forever.
